1. The Faculty of Physics and Mathematics of the University of Cluj has become an important center for research in nuclear physics. It can perhaps be considered the most important scientific center in these studies in all the satellites, and including the Soviet Union.   25X1

2. The following four professors can be credited with the success achieved so far:

   a. Horia Hulubei, Director of the Institute of Physics of the University of Bucharest. He also holds conferences of great importance and gives regular courses in nuclear physics at the University of Cluj;

   b. Raluca Ripan, Director of Chemistry at the University of Cluj;

   c. Stefan Milcu[1], Director of the Institute of Endrocrinology at the University of Cluj; and

   d. Eugen Makovski, Director of the Institute of Biochemistry at the University of Bucharest.

3. All four professors were members of the Rumanian delegation to the Geneva Conference on the Peaceful Uses of Atomic Energy, from 8 to 18 August 1955.

4. Rumania has made notable progress in the field of research and scientific application of atomic power, and is now first among the countries of the Eastern Bloc. They should soon arrive at the practicing phase of the study of isotopes for medical use.
